

Employment Seminar Agency Workers Regulations

This seminar will focus on all aspects of the Agency Workers Regulations six months after their introduction. We will look back at the way in which businesses have got to grips with this controversial and complex set of regulations and examine whether all the hype which surrounded their arrival was justified. We will revisit key concepts such as the anti-avoidance provisions and the so-called "Swedish derogation" model now they have had a little time to bed in. We will attempt to predict the impact of the the first cases to be determined by Employment Tribunals under the Regulations and, as always, will offer practical advice for operating the agency relationship.

York: Thursday 8th March 2012

Registration & Breakfast: 8:30am - 9:00am

Seminar: 9:00am - 11:00am

Accept
